

WEST 8 AT PREMSELA EXHIBITION ON DUTCH DESIGN IN INDIA

08-02-2011

West 8's design for Borneo-Sporenburg is one of 30 objects in this show which is about design concepts, processes and disciplinary cross-pollination in the Netherlands. The sharing of process – through ideas, technology and materials – gives Dutch design its seeming coherence. This same tendency also often alienates foreign design cultures. By revealing and analysing what makes the Dutch design process tick, Connecting Concepts will help people to better understand Dutch design on the physical and intellectual levels.

This new travelling exhibition started in the Indian city of Ahmedabad in February and will move to Bangalore and China afterwards.
